

Day Zero, Buxton

Day Zero is an independent shop in Buxton selling mostly package-free bulk food goods and some other essentials with the aim of assisting customers to reduce their plastic waste and live more environmentally.

During the Covid-19 lockdown we are taking orders and delivering in the local area to those unable to leave their houses, as well as NHS staff in need of staples. The shop is currently still open for people who are able to do their own shopping to do so.

To order from Day Zero please send an email to dayzeroshop@gmail.com with a list of what you need (stock list can be found here <https://www.dayzeroshop.co.uk/product-listing>). Include how much of each item you need to the nearest 100g, or 10g for herbs/spices. In terms of packaging for deliveries we are placing everything in paper bags and then one of our shop branded reusable totes or a cardboard box.

Please include the address to be delivered to and your preferred phone number so we can ring you and take a card payment, we are not accepting cash at this time.

It may take a few days for your order to be processed, but it should be delivered on the same day we ring you and most probably Freya Williams will deliver in our area.

If you are on facebook please follow us as we post regular updates there <https://www.facebook.com/dayzeroshop>.
